Users Meeting 2002 and Conference

To stay competitive and gain market share, companies are forced to continuously improve the quality of their products. While this has been a longtime-held belief for most managers, it is only in recent years that it has become clear that achieving higher quality is not necessarily at odds with efforts to reduce cost and time-to-market.

By attending this conference you'll have a chance to learn how modeFRONTIER, the best multi-disciplinary & multi-objective design optimization tool available on the market, is used by designers and managers around the world to achieve higher quality while reducing costs.

Conference themes:

- Process Automation and Parametrization
- Design Space Exploration
- Robust Design
- Multi-objective Optimization
- Strategies for Resources Optimization
- Cross-disciplinary Integration
- Multi-Criteria Decision Making
- Virtual Modeling for Optimization
- Aerospace, Automotive, and Marine Applications
- Design Collaboration and Remote Support
- Advanced Design Optimization Techniques

In addition, applications of modeFRONTIER to specific fields (such as aerospace, automotive, and marine) will be described.

The integration of modeFRONTIER with many popular simulation tools will also be showcased.
